Surfaces that tell Stories

What started decades ago as a passion for natural stone has evolved into Ronak International, a global partner for architects, designers, and builders who demand more than just surfaces, they demand reliability, beauty, and innovation in every project.

Stone expertise, refined over generations

Known for consistent quality, reliable service, and meticulous material selection, the company supplies to residential, commercial, and large-scale development projects across the region.

From our roots in the stone trade, we have grown into a trusted supplier with a presence in the UAE and across international markets. Along the way, we've witnessed design trends shift, technologies advance, and sustainability become a global priority. Through it all, our commitment has remained the same: to deliver stone solutions that stand the test of time while supporting the vision of our clients.

We maintain a robust inventory of more than 200,000 sqm. of stone stock at all times, offering over 250 distinct varieties to meet diverse project requirements with speed and reliability. Each collection is carefully curated to balance aesthetic appeal with durability, sustainability, and practicality. Whether it's a luxury hotel lobby, a high-rise residential tower, or a bespoke villa, we help transform ideas into spaces that inspire.

End-to-end stone mastery

We operate exclusive, company-owned quarries, granting us full control over the extraction process and ensuring the highest quality right from the source. These quarries are fully integrated with our advanced gangsaw units, calibration, and polishing facilities in India, delivering unmatched precision, consistency, and superior finishes at every stage of production.

Supported by cutting-edge stone-cutting and processing plants, we have the capability to produce custom dimensions and flawless finishes, meeting the exacting standards of architects, designers, and large-scale developers across the globe.

In addition, we source and import premium natural stones from the world's most prestigious quarry regions, including India, Turkey, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Vietnam, China, Saudi Arabia, Brazil, and Greece, offering a diverse and unparalleled selection for every project.

But our story isn't just about stone. It's about people and partnerships. We believe in working alongside our clients, providing not just materials, but design consultation, technical expertise, and responsive service. This approach has earned us long-term relationships and the trust of some of the most respected names in construction and design. As the industry moves forward, so do we. By embracing responsible sourcing, reducing waste, and integrating eco-conscious practices, we are shaping a future where exceptional design coexists with sustainability.
